G2 Systems Joins Forces with HighRoad Fund Services

G2 hires HighRoad's founder to add solid fund administrator and fund accounting consulting services.

By Ivy Schmerken

Michael Rodriguez, co-founder of HighRoad Fund Services, is joining G2 as its new director of accounting and operations. In his new role at G2, Rodriguez brings an extensive history of fund accounting and operations expertise. He will provide clients of G2 with solutions to workflow and complex investment-processing issues.

"We are delighted to have Michael join our firm," commented George Michaels, founder of G2. "With Michael on board, we now offer clients solid fund administrator and fund accounting consulting services in addition to our strong technology and software solutions." Prior to his experience at HighRoad, Rodriguez was an Senior Vice President at Investors Bank (now part of State Street Corporation) and responsible for leading the bank's global alternative investment strategic initiatives. He also previously held several senior management and executive-level positions in operations and technology at various financial services firms, including BISYS Alternative Investment Services (BAIS), and Hemisphere Financial Services.
